Other Women's Health Titles from Hesperian Health Guides

Where Women Have No Doctor, by A. August Burns, Ronnie Lovich, Jane Maxwell and Katharine Shapiro, is the perfect companion to Health Actions for Women, combining self-help medical information with an understanding of the ways poverty, discrimination and cultural beliefs limit women's health and access to care. Clearly written and with over 1000 drawings, this is an essential resource for any woman who wants to improve her health, and for health workers who want more information about the problems that affect only women and girls, or that affect women differently from men. 587 pages.

Available in many languages, including Burmese, Chinese, English, Kreyol, Lao, Nepali and Spanish.

A Book for Midwives, by Susan Klein, Suellen Miller and Fiona Thomson, is an invaluable training tool and practical reference for midwives and anyone concerned about care for women in pregnancy, birth and beyond. Created with the participation of dozens of community based midwives, trainers and medical specialists, this book discusses preventing, managing and treating obstetric complications, covers HIV in pregnancy, birth and breastfeeding, and has extensive information on reproductive care. 527 pages.

Available in many languages, including English, Nepali, Spanish and Urdu.

A Health Handbook for Women with Disabilities, by Jane Maxwell, Julia Watts Belser and Darlena David. The social stigma of disability and inadequate care are often greater barriers to health than disabilities themselves. This handbook provides groundbreaking advice and suggestions from women with disabilities worldwide, and helps women with disabilities improve their health, self-esteem, and ability to care for themselves and participate in their communities. Women with disabilities and their caregivers will find suggestions on disability-friendly health care, caring for daily needs, having healthy and safe sexual relationships, family planning, pregnancy and childbirth, defense against violence and abuse, and addressing social stigma and discrimination. 406 pages.

Available in many languages, including English and Spanish.
